2. Justpay Service operates also in Slovakia, Czech Republic, Germany, Romania, Hungary, France, Lithuania, Latvia, Estonia and Spain and may be launched in other states.
3. These Rules set forth the general terms and conditions of use of Justpay Service. Specific conditions for the delivery of services via Justpay Service are set forth in Exhibits hereto, separately for each state. The exhibits constitute an integral part of these Rules.

1. Justpay Service (hereinafter “Justpay”) comprises the delivery to entities that register with Justpay (hereinafter “Partners”) the possibility providing content to such services as: Premium SMS (MO), SMS MT (MT subscriptions or MT billing) or IVR Premium. Afterward such content is providing by Digital Virgo to Operators (hereinafter “Operators”) and Operators provide content to users (hereinafter “End Users”) or subscribers of telecommunication networks. The legal basis for delivering content to End Users by Operators is relevant agreement concluded between them. The content provided by the Operators to End User - depending on the type of service - can use, in particular either directly on mobile phone or the Internet on the web site mentioned in the information about the service. Availability of the aforementioned SMS/IVR Services in a particular country is specified in an Exhibit to these Rules regarding that country.
2. End Users may use the services identified in the Exhibit to the individual states. Through activating the service and delivering content by service Partner does not refer any relationship with the End User.
3. Partners of the Service who register in Justpay to provide content to services may include:

- a) natural persons conducting business activities,
- b) legal persons.

2. TERMS OF USAGE OF JUSTPAY

User Registration

1. The use of Justpay requires registration with Justpay by way of entering personal data as specified in the sign-in form and acceptance of these Rules.
2. Registration with Justpay and acceptance of these Rules is equal to the statement of Partner about the fulfilment of requirements – laid down in these Rules – regarding the use of Justpay and delivery content to services and requires the Partner to abide strictly by these Rules.
3. Registration with Justpay and acceptance of these Rules means that the Partner agrees to provide content to services while maintaining the rules of protection of End Users as required by the law and operators or providers of telecommunication services, including in particular those laid down in the Exhibits to these Rules for respective countries.
4. Upon generation with Justpay the the minimum amount of payout described in Art. 5 section 4, Partner shall sign with Digital Virgo a cooperation agreement regarding the delivery of services with the use of Justpay. In case of any discrepancies between the contractual provisions and these Rules, the contractual provisions shall prevail.

Services

1. Within the scope of Justpay, the Digital Virgo acquires content to services for resale (for share) to Operators (providers content to End Users). Digital Virgo shall ensure activation and maintenance of Premium numbers in networks of Operators and also make settlements with Operators for delivered content.
2. Every activation of SMS/IVR Service in favour of Partner is subject to the acceptance of the Digital Virgo. The service is activated on condition that the requirements of these Rules are fulfilled.
3. Justpay enables Partner to provide content to three types of services (availability of those services in each country is specified in a relevant Exhibit):
 - a) SMS Premium (MO Billing) – provides End Users the possibility of single, chargeable access to contents provided through Justpay, based on a password received by the End User after sending Premium SMS with a shortcode assigned to Partner; the cost of SMS sent by the End User depends on the shortcode; the list of shortcodes for a particular country together with net and gross prices per 1 SMS is specified in a relevant Exhibit.
 - b) SMS Premium MT:
 - i. MT Subscriptions – provide the End Users the possibility of using SMS subscription, which comprise delivery of contents of particular kind on a regular basis to End Users or ensuring constant access to services provided through Justpay and the User is charged for every received SMS (including SMS informing about the extension of access to a particular service) and receives SMS until a particular SMS subscription is deactivated; the cost of receipt of one SMS by the End User under a subscription depends on the shortcode for which the subscription was activated; the list of shortcodes for a particular country together with net and gross prices per 1 SMS is specified in a relevant Exhibit,

- ii. MT billing – provides the End Users the possibility of single, chargeable access to contents provided through Justpay and the End User is charged for every SMS received in response to that sent by the End User to a free SMS number with a particular message; the list of shortcodes for a particular country together with net and gross prices per 1 SMS is specified in a relevant Exhibit,
 - c) IVR Premium - provides End Users the possibility of single, chargeable access to contents provided through Justpaz based on a password given during a call to the End User upon call to IVR Premium number and entering a unique service ID assigned to Partner; the cost of the End User's call depends on the Premium number; the list of Premium numbers together with net and gross prices per call, regardless of its duration, is set forth in a relevant Exhibit.
4. The End User in return for the using of SMS / IVR service must receive tangible added value in the form of eg: access to restricted content, the ability to download a specific file, enlisted announcement on the website or the press.
 5. It is forbidden to set up SMS / IVR service in such a way that the End User does not receive any tangible added value. It is also forbidden services, which only aim is sending SMS to get financial means from prepaid and extortion financial means from postpaid; payments for services not related to mobile content which aim is transfer financial mean without provide any added value for users. In this case, the payout will not be paid to the Partner.
 6. In the event that within the Premium SMS services SMS traffic will be generated by the connections made with the repeating group MSISDN numbers belonging specifically to the one or two operators, which bears the hallmarks of the so-called artificial telecommunications traffic, the amount of payout for such traffic will not be paid to the Partner.
 7. Questions and problems relating to Justpay may be reported by End Users via a form available on website www.justpay.pl or by email to the address: justpay@digitalvirgo.pl

Settlements

1. Registration with Justpay is free of charge. In addition, there are no monthly fees.
2. Payout (hereinafter "Payout") for delivering content to services is calculated as Partner's share in SMS/IVR Premium income for Partners are specified in a relevant Exhibit.
3. Settlements shall be made in PLN currency. If Partner uses Justpay in the territory of other countries, in accordance with Exhibits to these Rules, foreign currencies shall be calculated in PLN according to the currency buying rate of the BNP Paribas Bank Poland S.A. (www.bnpparibas.pl) on the last working day of the month to which the settlement relates. Settlement will be made based on specific provisions of the agreement.
4. Partner is entitled to payout on condition signing the agreement and that a minimum amount of payout i.e. net 250 PLN is generated for all Partner's content delivered to services in a particular calendar month. If Partner uses Justpay also in the territory of other countries in accordance with Exhibits to these Rules, the minimum amount of payout referred in this section shall be calculated on the basis of traffic generated in a particular calendar month in the territory of all countries.
5. If in a particular calendar month the minimum amount of payout has not been generated to entitle to payout, the payout shall become due upon generation by Partner the minimum amount of payout and basis for calculation on the minimum amount of payout shall be Premium traffic generated within 5 subsequent calendar months maximum (i.e. in total within 6 months).
6. If the minimum amount of payout is not generated, within 6 subsequent calendar months, Partner shall not be entitled to payout for delivering content to services within the scope of services provided during a period of the said 6 months, unless the parties agree otherwise during negotiations. In such case Digital Virgo shall have the right to delete the Partner's account from Justpay.

7. Partner acknowledges and accepts the rule that payout is not paid for SMS/IVR connections considered by the Operator in particular as Frauds (including due payments not collected from Users), i.e. artificial telecommunication traffic (e.g. traffic generated to increase unreasonably turnovers in Justpay). If information is received from a telecommunication operator about qualifying or risk of qualifying connections as disqualified from settlements in accordance with this section, the Digital Virgo may suspend payout according to the earlier issued report, adjust the report and demand adjustment of the bill or invoice issued by Partner and in the case of partners under the same self-billing procedure Digital Virgo will issue a corrective invoice. Amounts paid to Partner by Digital Virgo prior to receipt of information from the Operator about disqualification of certain SMS connections in settlement shall be deducted from payout due to Partner for the settlement period (calendar month), when Digital Virgo was informed by the Operator or in case of inability to make deductions in that settlement period, the sums shall be deducted in subsequent settlement periods.
8. Additionally, in case of suspecting or ascertaining the occurrence of fraud or artificial telecommunication traffic in relation to connections, as well as, in case of suspecting or ascertaining that SMS/IVR service are in conflict with the generally prevailing provisions of law or with these Rules, the Digital Virgo may suspend payout according to the earlier issued report, adjust the report and demand adjustment of the bill or invoice issued by Partner and in the case of Partners under the same self-billing procedure Digital Virgo will issue a corrective invoice. The amounts paid to Partner by Digital Virgo prior to ascertaining the occurrence of events specified in the previous sentence shall be deducted from payout due to Partner for the settlement period (calendar month), when Digital Virgo ascertained the existence of the said events or in case of inability to make deductions in that settlement period, the sums shall be deducted in subsequent settlement periods.
9. The Digital Virgo will not pay the payout in the case of non-compliance SMS/IVR service with the provision §4 point 4, 5 and 6 and in the case of risk of qualifying SMS/IVR connections as Frauds by the Operator.
10. Payout due to Partner shall be charge only on the correct SMS sent by User in accordance with the services defined by the Partner in the service Justpay.
11. Upon generation in Justpay of minimum amount of payout Partner shall sign with Digital Virgo a cooperation agreement regards delivering content with the use of Justpay. In case of any discrepancies between contractual provisions and these Rules, the contractual provisions shall prevail.
